Saltan makes a range of cars. The level of inventory is too high so it plans to decrease production at its factory. Employees were told the business needs to reduce the size of its workforce as competition is increasing. The trade union is not happy that 360 of the 1200 skilled full time employees at Saltan will be made redundant. A trade union spokeswoman said: 'Saltan should reduce the number of hours of every employee rather than reduce the number of jobs.' Saltan's Operations Director is considering ways to increase efficiency in the factory.

(a) What is meant by a 'trade union'?

3 Alex and Raul are business partners. They started a bicycle repair business with their own savings as the bank would not give them a loan. Raul does most of the repair work, while Alex manages the accounts. Alex is surprised that the business has made a small profit in the first year. 'We can use this profit to expand. I don't know why people think we would benefit from having a business plan. Much of the demand for our repair business comes from our friends who own bicycles.'
