ASZ is a public limited company. It makes a range of garden tools such as digging forks and wheelbarrows using production methods which have not changed for many years. ASZ sells all of its products to a wholesaler. The Marketing Director is considering changing the channel of distribution by selling products directly to retailers. The Operations Director has prepared some revenue and cost data to help make decisions (see Table 1). ASZ is planning to introduce new technology which will change production methods.

4 CLG owns six airports in country L. The directors want to expand its main airport by building another runway for aircraft to take off and land. It will cost $300m. Choosing an appropriate source of finance will be important. The Managing Director said: 'CLG could offer 50 extra flights a day. There are environmental pressures including the loss of green spaces and extra pollution. There will be external benefits as well. I hope the Government allows the new runway to be built.' Interest rates increased in 2017.
